In view of the DCI's instructions indicated in paragraph 3 of reference 1, [redacted] unavailability, and the urgency of an expanded and fresh recruitment effort, it is requested that the CIA Personnel Office:

1. Confer with the persons listed under Tab A unless they are out of the country or otherwise inaccessible;
2. Secure their individual nominations for possible candidates who combine expert knowledge of the peculiar psychological traits of key peoples, and knowledge and experience of psychological warfare;
3. Obtain the judgment of each nominator as to whether each of his nominees, with regard to the items on the checklist under Tab B entitled "Key to Rankings on Nominees",
 - a. Is a top expert,
 - b. Is unusually qualified,
 - c. Has average qualifications.

It is suggested that the judgment rankings on each person be placed on the outer margin of the same sheet on which general personnel information may be written so that we may have the full information upon any given individual on the one sheet, as indicated on the accompanying forms. (These forms have been made out so that they can be used in a looseleaf notebook if you so choose.)

In view of the considerations indicated in the first paragraph above, it is requested that the consultation effort be expedited.
